HOMEAID PHOENIX PAINT-A-THON

A one-day volunteer blitz that brings the home building industry together to help make a positive impact in the community. Volunteer teams work together to paint housing and shelter facilities for nonprofits serving those experiencing homelessness. Frequently, the first maintenance item to be removed from an operational budget is painting, so recipients may have gone years without this much-needed improvement.

COMMUNITY PARTNER - HOUSE OF REFUGE

Located in southeast Mesa on part of the former Williams Air Force Base, House of Refuge provides safe and stable transitional housing to families who are experiencing homelessness. Professional staff work with families on regaining dignity, healing from trauma, finding employment, and ultimately obtaining permanent housing.

150 VOLUNTEERS...1 DAY !

We've committed to painting the exterior of up to 13 homes on the House of Refuge campus. Participating companies have generously "adopted" a home and are recruiting teams of employee-volunteers to join for a day of service this November.
